IFA Offer Terms and Conditions

(a) These terms and conditions supplement the existing Vodafone standard terms and conditions of service. You can access these conditions through the following link: Vodafone Mobile Standard Terms and Conditions.

(b) Your IFA membership may entitle you to receive mobile services from Vodafone Ireland Limited at a discounted rate on qualifying bill pay price plans, subject to meeting the conditions outlined in the Vodafone customer contract.

(c) By accepting this offer, you must agree to enter a 24-month contract with Vodafone.

(d) The discount is applicable to a single connection per IFA member and cannot be combined with any other promotional offers or discounts.

(e) Vodafone reserves the right to revoke the discount or discontinue this offer without prior notice.

(f) To benefit from this promotion, you must maintain a valid IFA membership. Vodafone reserves the right to remove the discount if your IFA membership is terminated or ceased.

(g) The discounted price plan exclusive to IFA members may take a processing period of up to 30 days for full application and activation on your account with Vodafone

(h) Should you terminate your service prematurely, despite the discounted rate as an IFA member, you will remain liable for any Early Termination Fees.

(i) By agreeing to this offer, you consent to receiving communications from Vodafone or the IFA via post, telephone, email, or text message regarding various aspects of this offer, promotions, products, or services. If you wish to opt out of such communications, please contact Vodafone Customer Care.

(j) Vodafone reserves the right to request proof of your IFA membership. If it is determined that you are no longer an active member of the IFA, Vodafone reserves the right to revoke the discount and switch you to the most comparable commercially available tariff or a non-discounted tariff for the remaining contract duration.

Please note: Pursuant to the European Communities (Protection of Consumers in Respect of Contracts made by means of Distance Communication) Regulations 2001, in the event that you do not receive this information until after you have received your phone, your right to cancel the contract will be extended to 3 months from the date of receiving your phone.
